The diagram consists of six numbered panels:

- 1: Shows a grey flexible hose being inserted into a grey male quick connector.
- 2: Shows the male quick connector being attached to a grey female quick connector on a white wall-mounted water tap. The tap has a red 'off' handle. A green arrow indicates the direction of connection.
- 3: Shows the grey flexible hose being inserted into a grey male quick connector, which is then connected to a grey power cord. The power cord is being inserted into a white electrical outlet. The outlet has a red 'off' switch. A green arrow indicates the direction of connection.
